Title: A Letter From Eliza

Author: Eliza.
-----

Dear Tomas,

Jared has not returned home since he last went to work in his lab 2 days ago. As you know, he has been working on a special project. His behavior changed greatly as his project progressed. I have turned every stone but no one seems to know where he might be. I'm worried sick. Any information or insight you may have would be greatly appreciated.

The bearer of this letter is assisting us in the search. Please share any information you have, however trivial it seems. Help on locating his secret lab would be especially welcomed.

Sincerely,

Eliza
